Journal Description:

‘Multidisciplinary International Research Journal of Gujarat Technological University’ is a biannual peer reviewed journal with the aim to provide a platform for the researchers to publish their original work. All research papers are published in English only.

Main aim is to provide a platform for -

- Researchers to share their continuing research work in form of research paper
- Academicians to share their conceptualized knowledge and its application by experiments
- Students to take advantage of knowledge and expertise of both research and academic communities

Multidisciplinary International Research Journal (MIRJ) is designed to foster the dissemination of innovative ideas and outstanding developments related to various fields like Engineering, Pharmacy, Management, Master of Computer Applications and Architecture.

All received research papers are blindly reviewed by editorial board for the originality of content, methodology, literature review and research gap, analysis part, research findings and its relationship with objectives, drafting, flow of information and paper writing skills etc.

The views expressed in the research papers are those of authors. No part of the published journal may be reproduced in any form without the written consent of the publishers.
